

Magnificent £24k raised at black-tie dinner

ABI SMILLIE

Ayrshire Cancer Support and Nolan Wealth Management teamed up to hold a black-tie dinner and clay shoot at Trump Turnberry to raise funds for the charity's new cancer support centre in Ayr.

The soiree, coined in a staggering £24,097 for the centre which will help children, young people and adults in Ayrshire.

Gary Nolan, of Nolan Wealth Management, said: "Our heartfelt thanks go to everyone who attended and made such generous contributions to the event. None of this could have happened without the fantastic support of all the donors, the sponsors, the exhibitors, the hotel, the ladies at ACS and finally Andrew Case of Case Sport for providing such a great day of clay shooting, which was a challenge on a very sunny warm day."

Nicola George, Head of Fundraising at ACS, thanked Gary for his efforts as "without him, this event would not have been possible." She added: "We need to generate £2,700 every day, just to keep our free services running – it would be impossible to help so many people without support from businesses like Nolan Wealth Management."
